WHY KRS

KRS Team

The quality of the service KRS offers is directly related to the quality of our staff including experts in all aspects of trade as well as specialities in such area as finance, credit analysis, low economic research, insurance, project planning, transportation and communication.

The making of the KRS exim has two aspects: provide job skills and instilling the KRS spirit. We begin by training specialities, recruiting intelligent and well-educated young man and putting through years of on - the - job as well as special training program. This gives them the skills to handle the job and to perform efficiently in serving you, but the training does not end here.

At an even more basic level, we instill a sense of integrity and moral responsibility. These virtues have been at the foundation of the KRS tradition, and are indispensable for sound business development. They must be combined with intellectual and emotional sensitivity.

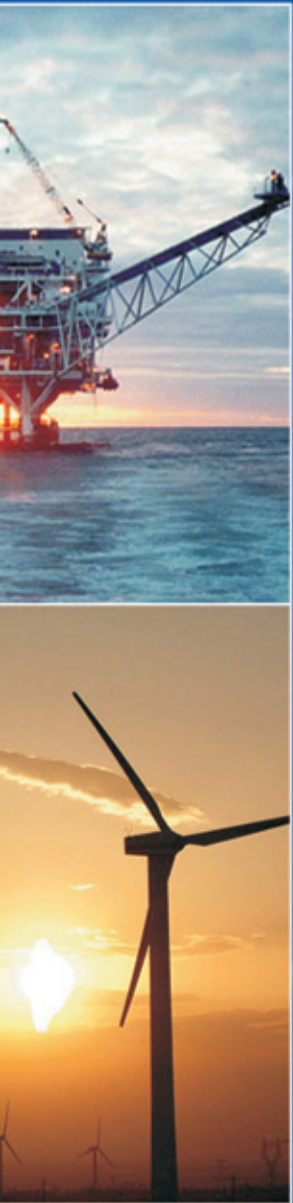

A Tradition of Trust

Since our business is International in scope, these sensitivities must include an international perspective and the KRS employee must be aware of the task of communicating cross-culturally if we are to effectively service our clients and gain their trust. It is this interweaving of intellectual challenge which has guided our personnel development program.

KRS to this day pride ourselves on prudence, integrity and a commitment to fulfilling our social responsibility. In many ways, the reputation for trustworthiness which we have gained over the years is our most valuable business asset and one which we strongly protect. It is on this principle of trust that we are prepared to be of service to you.
